VARIETY.

Men charge all their follies and failures to fate, and then take credit to themselves for all their good luck. There is nothing bashful about man. An individual who called his first daughter Kate, when his wife surprised him with another girl, promptly christened her Duplicate.

The Detroit Free Press tells of a paper that steals most of its matter from the Bible. This will make the inspired writers hop.—Buffalo Express.

A Boston child remarked, after gazing earn-eatly at a man who was bald but had heavy whiskers: " His head was put on upside down, wasn't "Truth crushed to earth will rise again." Strange coincidence. It's just the same with a corn. After it has been crushed to earth it generally ruses high enough for a man to hold it with both hands while he waltzes round on the A Chinaman thus describes a trial in our courts; " One man is silent, another talks all the time, and twelve wise men condemn the man who has not said a word." William Thompson of Douglas county has had five wives and has just married the sixth. It is, however, due to the unfortunate man to state that he has been totally blind for many years .-St. Louis Times-Journal. A clergyman in New Orleans was agreeably surprised to find a plump turkey served up for his dinner, and inquired of his servant how it was obtained. "Why, sir," replied Sambo, " dat turkey has been roosting on our fence tree nights; so dis morning I seized him for de rent ob A little girl had been taught by her mother not to say shall and shant, but to use some softer equivalent. On reciting her Sabbath-school lesson, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want," she surprised her teacher by an improved version-" I rather not want."

Customer—" What did you think of the Bishop's sermon on Sunday, Mr. Wigsby "? Hairdresser—" Well, really, sir, there was a gent sittin' in front o' me as 'ad his 'air parted that crooked that I couldn't 'ear a word!" "My! what a steep hill! And see those ten or eleven wretches packed in one wagon that poor straggling horse can hardly draw!" " Wretches? Them are all Christians, mam, going to campmeetin'."- Erie (Pa.) Herald. The French newspapers say that in a certain Irish Cathedral there used to be shown three skulls, one little one and two big ones, which the guide described to visitors as the skull of St. Patrick when he was a child, the skull of St. Patrick grown up, and the skull of St. Patrick The late Dr. Fletcher was preaching an evening sermon to a crowded audience in Edinburg, when a note was handed up to him to intimate if Doctor So-and-so was in the church, he was urgently wanted. Having read the note and see-ing the doctor move off, he immediately added, with great fervor, " And may the Lord bave mercy on his patient."

A petite, blue-eyed maiden, who was nursing her fifth Christmas doll, and listening to her mother and some female friends talking about domestic broils and divorces, created rather a pleas-ING. Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Jewelry, Perfumery, Pocket Cutlery, and every description of Gent's Superior Furnishing Goods. IF Benkert's Fine Calf Dress Boots, ant sensation by remarking. If some of the deck-hands on the ark had only shoved that sample fly overboard what a vast amount of profunity would have been spaired in after years.

" Edward," said Mr. Rice, " what do I hear? that you have disobeyed your grandmother, who told you just now not to jump down these steps?"

Grandma didn't tell us not to, papa: she only came to the door and said, 'I wouldn't jump down those steps, boys,' and I shouldn't think she would, an old lady like her!"

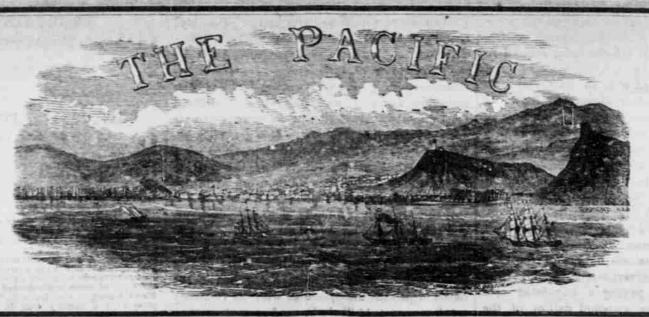

Seven ladies received the degree of A. B. at Northampton recently. " But," asks the Lowell Courier, " how can a young woman be a bachelor?" Pshaw! A. B. don't mean that in a lady's diploma. It means " after bachelors," and signifies that the young lady that received the degree | CONSIGNMENTS OF ISLAND PRODUCE is qualified for matrimony.

" My little seven-year-old girl," writes a MPORTERS AND DEALERS IN HARD-WARE, Dry Goods, Paints, Oils, and General Merchandise, no17 Corner Fort and King Sts. 1y friend, " was in the sitting-room with her uncle and dreamily looking from the window. Without turning her head she said, " Uncle Horace, eight and seven make fifteen, don't they?" He replied that she was right, 'Then,' said she, in half soliloquy, 'it is only eight years before I shall have a beau, and oh! I dread it!'

THE LOVER'S TALE.—Tennyson's early poem, "The Lover's Tale," just published, contains about 1100 lines A pretty long tale to pour into her ear, and he must have gone to see her at least three nights a week for a year. When he left, at 2 a. m., Monday, he would tie a string around her finger so she would remember where he left off, and whisper in her ear, as he kissed her good-night, " To be continued on Tuesday

A well-known liberal elergyman relates that, lately, talking to some youngsters on the coming vacation, and diverging into the necessity of kindness to animals, be incidently remarked:

Boys are often cruel to toads and frogs. I remember of a boy wickedly filling a toad with fire-crackers and lighting the slow-match. He was horrified to see this remark received with the limitest amotions of interest and delight and liveliest emotions of interest and delight, and was utterly prostrated as he passed out at hearing one urchin say to another, "By jings! that's a new note. Won't we have fun blowing up the bullpaddies down in the medder."
